SOLD IN THE DINING-ROOM.

The Justice Construct the Law to W. C. Rhodes was fined $25 in the Police Court yesterday, and sent on to the grand jury on the charge of keeping his bar-room open on Sunday. Messrs. Tazewell Ellett and D. C. Richardson represented Rhodes, and endeavored to show that the law did not apply to the case before the court, as the liquor had not been sold in the bar-room, but in the dining-room of the establishment. Ofdining-room of the establishment. Of-fleer Murray, who reported Rhodes, tes-tified that last Sunday he was standing on the corner of Main and Belvidere streets, and noticed several persons enter Rhodes's place. He went in and saw several persons get drinks and pay for them. When asked whether the bar itself was open, the officer replied that it was not. Justice Crutchfield decided that the law applied to the case, and law applied to the case, and sent Rhodes on to the grand jury, as stated above. Mr. Ellett took occasion stated above. Mr. Ellett took occasion to denounce the system of prying into a person's house, which was resorted to by the police authorities. Rhodes was bailed in the sum of $100.

Edward Cook (colored) was also charged with keeping his bar-room open on Sunday. He was fined $25 and sent on to the grand jury. He was allowed ball in the sum of $100. James Mayo (colored) was sent on to

THE FIRST WEEK A SUCCESS.

The War of the Roses Bazaar Has Reen Liberally Patronized. The first week of the "War of Roses" bazaar ended last night. Reports show everything in nice shape and prospects for a splendid attendance during the coming week.

All of the booths were well patronized

All of the booths were well patronized last night, and there is a voting contest going on at most all of them. The most spirited is that of the contest between the officers of the regiment and for the bicycle for the most popular young lady. The ladies in charge are working hard to make the affair a success, and as the cause is a good one, they hope that everybed who has not attended the bazaar will pay it a visit this week. The decerations are very beautiful and the concert maste well worth the price of admission. In connection with the Presbyterian ship there is a butcher-shop in full operation where one can order nice meats for breakfest.

Mathews, Norfolk

Mrs. Carrie Robinson, relict of Governor James F. Robinson, of Kentucky, who died on Friday evening at her home, Cardome, just outside Geofgetown, Ky, was a well-known southern woman. She had often visited Richmond, having been a sister of Mrs. S. E. West, of this city, and an neut of Mossrs. C. R. and C. O. West, of the Dispatch. Mrs. Robinson was a native of North Carolina, but had lived for many years in Alabama, where she had large real estate interests. She was a pronounced Baptist, and had attended nearly every general association for the past ten or fifteen years. Several of the ministers of that denomination here knew her well. Mrs. Robinson went to Kentucky to live after her marriage to the Governor, and there she took a profound interest in educational matters, She assisted many poor young men to get educations at Georgetown College. She was a member of the Board of Lady Managers of Kentucky for both the World's Fair and the Atlanta Exposition.

Her funeral took place from her home yesterday afternoon, and Mrs. West and Mr. Fowers, of this city, were in attendance.

There were an unusually large number of regimental soldler lads around the Armory during the jeast week. The bagaar of the 'War of Roses' was doubtless the attraction, as all during the week the musketeers have been visiting the show in large numbers.

musketeers have been visiting the show in large numbers.

Much to the regret of all the members of the regiment First-Lieutenant Richard K. Pasnter, of Company F, has retired from the service. The "Anderson Light Infantsy" loses an efficient officer, and the regiment one of its most popular and truest men. An election to fill the vacancy in the company will take place shortly, and several promotions will take place in the company.

The regular company drills will be held this week.

His Hip Distocated.

Mr. Charles J. Healy, a painter employed by Mr. H. A. Evans, while at work on a house on the corner of Lombardy and Frankin streets yesterday afternoon, fell and received a dislocation of the left hip. The ambulance was summoned, and responded with Dr. Farker in charge. The injured man was taken to his home. No. 1622 west Broad street, where Dr. Parker, assisted by Dr. Franklin, reduced the dislocation.
